

CalRecycle Audio Script: 3,000 Mile Myth

"Auto debunkers" jungle music lead-in.

Speaker 1: Welcome back to Auto Debunkers

Speaker 2: Yeah, let's take a call

Caller: Hi guys, do I need to change my oil every 3000 miles?

Speaker 2: Ok, do you use a crank to start your engine?

Caller: (laughing) No...

General laughing by all.

Speaker 1: You don't need to change your oil that often.

Caller: No?

Speaker 2: No, it's a myth. Most cars today can go much longer. Hey listen, consult your owner's manual for guidelines.

Speaker 1: It will save you money and your car will be okay.

Caller: Oh, okay.

Speaker 2: And leave your crank at home.

General laughing by all.

Narrator: Manufacturers' recommendations vary per vehicles and driving conditions, check your owner's manual and visit 3000MileMyth.org.
